figure in the doping, the drugging of America. …"Without Kenneth Bialkin's behind-the-scenes legal maneuvering, the Medellin Cartel would have had a far more difficult time establishing a beach-head in the United States. …"In much the same way Bialkin quieted the potentially stormy divorce between Edmond Saffra and American Express, he brokered the marriage between renegade financier, Robert Vesco, and the Medellin Cartel's Chief of Logistics, Carlos Ledder Rivas. …"As a result, the dope smuggling routes through the Caribbean into the United States were consolidated, and the streets of America were flooded during the 1980s with marijuana and cocaine. …"Now, this sordid story began in 1970 when Kenneth Bialkin, the senior partner at the Wall Street law firm of Wilkie, Farr and Gallagher, helped engineer Robert Vesco's take-over the Investors Overseas Service, a Swiss-based mutual fund that was founded by Bernie Cornfield, with start-up funding from the Swiss-French branch of the Rothschild family, etc." | http://www.conferenceofpresidents.org/content.asp?id=108 | http://www.nndb.com/people/143/000137729/ – Mergers & Acquisitions lawyer.
